To share desktops, I recommend using the free, cross platform app from crossloop.com. No need to open an account. Please go to that site, and select the bottom left option to download the free Screen Sharing tool.

Install and run it. Once you do, you'll see a window like this, but with your name, not mine.

Switch to the green Access tab and enter your name.

and the number I will give you when we talk by phone (it changes).

You'll see my screen and I can give you cursor control.

Please expect to receive a phone call from me at the time we arranged.
